

Question:

What is the ruling on a Muslimah breastfeeding while pregnant? Can my blood sister breastfeed my child and vice versa?

Answer:

Breastfeeding her baby is permissible while she is pregnant... That is the baby right... Remember that Allah (swt) is Al-Raaziq for all (Mother, Baby and Al-Janeen).

However, If a Doctor advice you for the sake of Al-Janeen it is permissible for you to provide baby milk powder or to let you blood sister or any other woman to breastfeed your baby and vice versa with a special permission from the husband to permit his wife to breastfeed other baby or to let other woman to breastfeed his baby beside with the absence of any Prohibitions.
