

“Twin Towers/Pentagon was a Covert Operation by C.I.A”

The following information comes from a political analyst who has been studying and reviewing the latest developments in the War against ISLAM.

The attack against the US in the recent terrorist campaign was a planned event concocted by no other than the CIA. This covert operation took two years in the planning and even the President of America is on a “...need to know basis!”. The CIA has been at the heart of International terrorism for the past 50 years and keeps a watchful eye on events that could compromise American & British interests. It is an organisation that has no regard for human life since its purpose is to bring down/destabilise governments, collect covert information on individuals and groups, establish propaganda using the media and wage covert operations using undercover SEAL, Special Forces and SAS within the USA and internationally. It has a database that is shared between security organisations such as MOSAD of Israel, KGB of Russia, INTRERPOL of Europe and MI6 of the UK and countless other states that provide a network of information that allows covert operations to take place. Covert operations could be from eave dropping or tapping to assassinations or assisting states to assassinate.

“It does not take a rocket scientist to realize after reading the breakdown of recent historical events that the CIA was indeed the perpetrators of the destruction of the Twin Towers in NY and the Pentagon in Washington. You may now be wondering WHY?”

In August 1999 the Prime minister of Pakistan was removed by the intervention of the Pakistani Military blaming the then PM Nawaz Sheriff of corruption and planning the destabilisation of Pakistan’s core institutions. But there was another side of the story that sheds more light on what led to the coupe. The Kargil engagement between Indian forces and Mujahadeen forces from Afghanistan was the focal point of the action take by the Pakistani military. The Pakistani military are well known as having a well-defined relationship with Britain and the US. One can go as far as to say that the relationship is so intimate that both the Pakistani and Indian governments are literally in bed with each other! The British and the interfering American administration still have influences over the two countries, so much so that Whitehall in the UK defines the foreign policies and expenditure of these countries by indirect rule.

“ One can go as far as to say that the relationship is so intimate that both the Pakistani and Indian government are literally in bed with each other!”

The Pakistani and Indian governments are incapable of ruling their states simply because they are planted subjects to the west to serve western needs. I know how this might sound but “that’s the reality and you can’t dismiss it”. Western countries have been very instrumental in designing governments especially in the Muslim lands who on one hand show themselves having full control over what they do, even as far as making their peoples believe that they can command their troops to their borders, but the stark reality is that behind the scenes the British (Whitehall/GCHQ) and the US are making ALL decisions that are in their interests.

Back to Kargil, the Muslim forces that originated from Afghanistan posed a major threat to India due to the heavy casualties that had been inflicted upon Indian troops in the mountainous region of Kashmir. India responded by placing itself on high alert and sending 70,000 troops towards the Pakistani border in anticipation of an insurgency into Indian territory from the north aided by Mujahadeen in Indian occupied Kashmir. This sent alarm bells both in the US and British administrations since the escalation of events were out of their control as Muslim forces were besieging Pakistani/Indian disputed territory. The Pakistani forces were sympathetic and provided logistical support to the Muslim forces and at one point the Pakistani forces thought that they could inflict the same type of casualties against the Indian troops only to find themselves being gunned down (Allah(swt) does not help those who fight for nationalism). The Muslim forces were carrying out operations that were strategically taking out the Indian troops in their hundreds and it was reported that hundreds of Indian bodies were littered all over the mountain side and washed down rivers. While this escalation was developing the US demanded that Pakistan's PM come before the American president after many requests to halt logistical support for the Afghan Mujahadeen. Their Mr. Nawaz Sharif was ordered to stop all ascensions immediately and return to agreed lines of control (LoC). Support by Pakistan was stopped and the Mujahadeen carried out a tactical retreat back into northern Afghanistan.

Some History about Afghanistan

Since the Taliban had taken full control of Afghanistan and were providing support to Muslim groups (inc. Osama Bin Laden) the borders had been closed off securely and controls tightened. The only intelligent reports came from either people living inside the country or from Russian backed opposition groups located in the northwest of the country.

The UK propaganda media machine sprang into action and showed videos of how the Taliban were treating their own people – excerpts of people without food and in dire starvation (note: UN Sanctions placed upon Afghanistan by the US and Britain are to blame for this).

The British then appointed Gerri Haniewell of Spice Girls fame to promote family planning and women's rights across the globe as an ambassador for the UN. This was to highlight women's rights as well as trying to slow down the population rates especially in Muslim states by promoting safer sex. The hidden agenda was that by slowing down birth rates or increasing abortions the Muslim people would not revolt against their inadequate oppressive governments and thus secure more time overall for western governments to drain the natural finite resources from Muslim land. This was also planned as precursor for the War that was to come.

Western governments got together at many venues during 1999-2001, under the guise of G7 summits, Economic and development meetings, G8 summits, UN Millennium reunion bash and European ratification meetings to forge alliances in advance of the War. America even before the 11th September 2001 was running out of time and tried to ram down European throats the concept of a Missile Defense Shield (Son of Star wars) across the western hemisphere!

Elsewhere, the US had decided the fate of Prime Minister Nawaz Sharif and planned to do away with him. They saw him not fit to take their orders and felt that when the planned War was to take affect he would side against them. This War is the planning that the CIA was concocting to eliminate the Muslim camps in northern Afghanistan. The US apart from receiving outdated intelligence had only their orbiting spy satellites to help them estimate how large a force was training in northern Afghanistan. This was approaching an alarming size and so the CIA covert operation was given the green light to start, planning was complete and enacted to bring about the third World War. Britain on the other hand advised the US that if a world war is to be staged then it would be in their interest to make sure that NATO strengthen itself within the European states, especially those that had a Muslim population. Britain, France and Germany pushed ahead plans for a European fighter plane and orchestrated the creation of a European Rapid Defense Force. The European Union then expanded its border by throwing a bone at Turkey (“Sick man of Europe!”- defined by the west before the second world war) and set goalposts for Turkey’s membership into the EU. Turkey was and is very eager to distance itself from the past especially ISLAM even though the majority of her population mostly comprises Muslims. Bosnia, Kossava and Macedonia needed to be militarily disabled so that Muslims with arms did not flare up in central Europe giving Britain and its EU allies a hard time. Russia was directed to disable the carcasses another Muslim stronghold that longed for an Islamic State. The Russians flattened Grozny and killed Muslims by the tens of thousands. Shouldn’t the US have sent its Military strength and bombed Moscow after the complete destruction of not one twin tower but a whole city in Chechenya! – double standards. The US cannot without Britain and European support push thru World War III – its military personnel are crap! only a few special forces and that’s it – it can never sustain a war without major casualties. The US knew that it could never do it alone, it needed the support of the NATO allies, Russia., India, China and Pakistan to make this happen so the first stage was to remove the Pakistani Prime Minister. This was achieved in October 1999 by General Pravez Musharaf after he and the Indian military alongside a top ranking American general discussed and planned the removal of the prime minister in September of that very year.

“The story of a commercial plane not being able to land and the general seeking his military to assist him to return to Pakistani soil and then to take over the country was in the makings of a Hollywood film – How imaginative can the Americans be!”

The first thing General Masharif did was that he froze the country and slowed it down to the extent that it gave valuable time to the US and its partner India to organize the two summits that would be precursor for Pakistan to work and cooperate with India. This was vital for the CIA plan for the war against the Muslim forces in Northern Afghanistan. If Pakistan was still at odds with India over Kashmir and dialog being at it’s lowest ever during the administration of Nawaz Sharif the plans of the US would fail.

To this end both the peoples of Pakistan and India were duped into thinking that both countries would work together to resolve the Kashmiri issue. Both summits failed to get any resolution, only a few Indian border guards where sent home from the border. The World was then duped into believing that peaceful dialogue was occurring and that a nuclear war would not happen. The US where itching to stop the emergence of an Islamic force in northern Afghanistan since this would destabilise the region with the loss of Pakistan, Uzbekistan, and possibility Kazakhstan in the process. Pakistan being a nuclear country would fall in the hands of the Muslims and the US were afraid that India would be compromised since China and Pakistan would have made it impossible for India to survive an onslaught from both its eastern, northern and western borders. Kazakhstan is a oil rich state and America has had its plans to pipe the oil to the US and had brokered a deal in 1999 to tap into this reserve when the oil in the middle east dries up. The US wanted to make sure at all cost that nothing stops this from happening otherwise it would see to be a superpower – Russia is now an American ally and is economically bankrupt if it wasn't for US Aid (note: Russia was always in bed with the US since Eisenhower brokered a deal with Krushnov in 1950's where both powers carved up the world into two sphere of influence to stop the occurrence of ISLAM). If America had lost influence in Kaszkstan, how would its core industries operate? Remember what happened in the UK in 2000 when the people came out and blocked the oil trucks from reaching the petrol pumps! The Training camps in Afghanistan train Muslims who fight in the caucuses, India, Algeria and China against the unjust rules of those lands. Those murderous rulers are allies to the US and Britain and so the conflict is one which the US and Britain would see through to the end since their interests are at stake.

“...both the peoples of Pakistan and India were duped into thinking that both countries would work together to resolve the Kashmiri issue”

What would the Islamic forces in Afghanistan do? What is their plan? The US feared that its interests would be compromised so the CIA planned the next War. But what could they do to get the full attention of both their own peoples support, not affect the lives of the moderate Muslims living in the US, gain the support of the majority of the worlds governments and then carryout a campaign that would allow them to send troops and drop bombs to eliminate the Muslim Islamic forces training in northern Afghanistan? By destroying an historical building in the heart of the financial world in such a Hollywood style that would convince the whole world that the terrorist attack on the US was the works of Osama Bin Laden's network of terrorism. This would allow the US to carryout their plan and save their interests.

With extreme pressures upon western governments to implement the devious evil plans of globalization, the WTO (World Trade Organisation) with its vast influence constantly pressurising governments to bring about a New World Order in trade, command and control. The events that occurred on the 11th September planned by the CIA ignited the fuse laid down by the WTO as precursor to intensify world oppression and terrorism to allow world trade at their terms. With the twin towers no longer an icon of American world trade, the WTO will exert its own European headquarters as the world trade center of the future. By distributing their military prescience in the Muslim lands, western governments are terrorising the whole Muslim Nation with their laser guided cruise missiles that can be fired from hundreds of miles away. However, this will not affect the resolve of the Muslims as they are ready to mobilize and remove their despotic governments at a moments notice. To implement an Islamic government as defined by Prophet Mohammad (SAAW). Refer to constitution of the future Islamic state at <http://www.islamic-truth.fsnet.co.uk>.

How could the CIA and the US plan to kill their own people? International politics played by the powers only look at the results, much the same that a bean counter looks at the financial considerations of risks - so long as the outcome is as they planned, they would be victorious as their future plans would be intact, and the Murder of a few thousand people in a twin town building would be acceptable. Bean Counter – a person who calculates the risks of say a motor manufacturer that has sold 100,000 cars but found that a major fault in the mechanics would mean the return and modification of these vehicles at a cost of $128 Million dollars, instead the bean counter would recommend that since it is anticipated that up to 50 lives would be lost, it would only cost $50 million dollars in law suits so the advise is not to recall the vehicle – at the expense of human lives). This is the Central Intelligence Agency at its best and the upper levels of the US administration doing what is best in the interest of the country.

The biggest and ultimate terrorist group in the world is the American government and its covert institutions. The American government carries out state terrorism on a large scale, topples governments and carries out assassinations. It stands shoulder to shoulder with Britain, Israel, Russia and other partners in eliminating any emergence of any threat that may affect its future survival. The US is the right hand of the British Empire that still exists today controlling the world's states indirectly.

A further spin-off of a war is to justify and blame the already failing economic situation being faced by all major stock exchanges round the world. This would recede into a world recession and would be further proof that Capitalism is a failed system to live by. The last time the markets were suffering was in 1989 when the stock markets crashed in the US and affected the whole world leading Western and Eastern countries into a world recession. The answer to this economic recession was the Gulf War in 1991 – again a planned event by Britain and the US to pump their markets with cheap oil from Iraq after sanctions. The mere speculation of how cheap the oil would raise the stock exchange to highs from dwindling lows. The cost of human lives was immense and the amount of destruction to Muslim land was enormous. To top it up even further the UN imposed sanctions that put the once strong Iraq down on its knees. Saddam Hussian used the sanctions to force his countrymen to sell the oil for medicines. This is how a War can bolster western capitalism. “ It doesn't take a brain surgeon to understand that! Does it!”
